You want something simple and practical, but that expresses your individuality. Meet the NLSV, packed with new concepts in convenient and easy-to-use real-life oriented features.

Large wireless electric sliding doors make it easy to get people and their stuff in and out. And the voluminous flat-floor interior lets you travel with living-room-like comfort.

The NLSV puts a smart new spin on functional versatility.

Awesomely easy for everyone to use

Designed for everyday convenience, the NLSV features large wireless electric sliding doors and a low, flat floor, free of the typical bulge in the middle. The roomy high-ceilinged compartment welcomes passengers in this people-friendly package, which incorporates universal design principles.

Easy ingress/egress and comfort

It's easy to get in and out of the NLSV. No step is needed to access the low 300mm high flat floor. This "walk through" design offers outstanding comfort. The passenger seat can be adjusted to make even more space and link the rear and front seating areas. It's a new sensation, almost like being in your own living room. You'll also like the umbrella holders and large utility pockets in the rear quarter trim.

Doors unlimited

Forget all your preconceived notions about car doors. These large sliding doors are powered and wirelessly controlled for unlimited freedom. Passengers, luggage, driver... Any door will do.

Cool, modern exterior, and just right for right now

A cool and modern design that hints at tomorrow while meeting your needs today. With its solid-looking low-slung body and arched cabin with large expanses of glass, the NLSV presents individualistic proportions. The sleek headlamps, front grille and rear combination lamps add up-to-the-minute styling touches.

Like stepping into a contemporary living room

Adorned in cool grey and vivid yellow fabric, the interior exudes a sumptuously modern and spacious atmosphere, with a 1,400mm ceiling for more headroom than a minivan. The simple, tasteful instrument panel configuration features centralised gauges with separate audio and navigation sections arranged together with the air outlets to emphasise living-room-like styling.
