All-new Toyota Land Cruiser Commercial

- UK factory conversion of the new generation Land Cruiser
- A new halo model for the Toyota Professional range of light commercial vehicles
- Single-model range five-door long wheelbase with load capacity up to 2,000 litres
- Significantly higher equipment specification compared to previous Land Cruiser Commercial
- On sale from August 2025, priced £51,729.17 (commercial vehicle on-the-road)

The all-new Land Cruiser Commercial is a new halo model for the Toyota Professional range of light commercial vehicles.

The model is a factory conversion of the Land Cruiser passenger car that was introduced to wide acclaim and high customer demand a year ago. It combines formidable all-terrain capabilities with a practical load space and an equipment specification that reflects its prestige status, together with Land Cruiser's legendary quality, durability and reliability.

Positioned at the top of the Toyota Professional range, it provides an attractive option to customers who do not require the load-carrying capabilities or additional seats of the Hilux pick-up, but want the benefits of serious off-road performance, on-road poise and a wealth of comfort, safety and convenience features as standard.

The conversion process is undertaken at Toyota Manufacturing UK's Burnaston production facility in Derbyshire. It includes removing the rear seats, rendering the rear opaque with interior steel panel inserts and installing a full-height metal bulkhead with a mesh top section.

The load space is practical and hard-wearing with an edge-to-edge floor tray. It measures 1,090mm high, 1,685mm long and a maximum 1,286mm wide, giving a cargo capacity (VDA measurement) of up to 2,000 litres. Maximum payload is 810kg. The Land Cruiser Commercial can also tow loads up to 3.5 tonnes.

The range comprises a single model, a five-door, long wheelbase version. The equipment specification is at a higher level than the previous Land Cruiser Commercial, carrying across many of the advanced technology, comfort and convenience features of the passenger model, together with a comprehensive Toyota Safety Sense package of safety and driving assistance systems.

Specification highlights include 18-inch alloy wheels, a power-adjustable driver's seat, heated front seats, a power back door with opening window hatch, an auto-dimming rearview mirror, electronic parking brake and automatic dual-zone air conditioning. The multimedia system includes a nine-inch touchscreen and wireless smartphone integration with both Apple CarPlay and Android Auto.

The Commercial also adopts the Land Cruiser's 2.8-litre engine, matched to an eight-speed automatic transmission. The powertrain has permanent all-wheel drive and selectable drive modes to suit the journey. Off-road performance systems include Crawl Control, Hill-start Assist Control and Downhill Assist Control. The driving assistance features include a Blind Spot Monitor, front and rear parking sensors and Safe Exit Assist.

At a later date, the powertrain will be upgraded to incorporate Land Cruiser's forthcoming Hybrid 48V mild hybrid system*, which will provide even more refined performance with no reduction in the car's performance capabilities.

The all-new Toyota Land Cruiser Commercial is on sale from 1 August 2025 with deliveries to customers from September. The commercial vehicle on-the-road price is £51,729.17.
